Dear Admissions Committee of the University of Milano-Bicocca,

My name is Olivier Jaylet, and I am a Senior Lecturer at the School of Information Technology and Engineering at Kazakh-British Technical University. I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Nurkhan Saret, whom I have taught in the course “Introduction to Machine Learning” during his fourth year of undergraduate studies.

Throughout the semester, Nurkhan consistently showed strong analytical skills, curiosity, and a real interest in solving problems using data. He stood out for his ability to understand complex ideas quickly and apply them effectively in practical assignments. His performance in the course, both in individual tasks and project work, was excellent and placed him among the top students.

Besides his academic strengths, Nurkhan has great interpersonal and teamwork skills. He communicates clearly and works well with his peers. He often takes the lead in organizing and guiding group projects. His mix of technical skills and communication abilities will serve him well in a demanding and collaborative academic environment like yours.

I strongly recommend Nurkhan for admission to your Data Science program. I am confident that he will contribute positively to your university community and excel in his graduate studies. If you need any more information about his academic work or character, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,
